

Theatre Ontario Festival 2010

The Drama Starts Here!

London Community Players, Western Ontario Drama League and Theatre Ontario are pleased to be co-hosting Theatre Ontario Festival 2010 at the Palace Theatre in London, Ontario - May 19 to 23, 2010.

Four of the Ontario regions - ACT-CO (Association of Community Theatres - Central Ontario), EODL (Eastern Ontario Drama League), QUONTA (Northern Ontario Drama Region) and WODL (Western Ontario Drama League) will each send their winning production to this Festival - four plays in four days. A reception at the Aeolian Hall will kick off this week of theatre. There will be a public adjudication by our adjudicators, Theresa Sears and David Switzer, after each evening's performance, followed by an "Encore" reception. The following morning a detailed adjudication will be held, open to all, and several workshops are planned. The five day event will close with an Awards Brunch on Sunday, when awards will be presented and one of the productions declared "Best Production".

Technical details for the Palace Theatre at 710 Dundas Street, London, Ontario are being posted to LCP's web site - www.londoncommunityplayers.com. Festival Hotel is the Delta Armouries, where the Awards Brunch will be held. Playwrights Canada Press will sponsor, in conjunction with the Canada Council, a playwright to read from their work, and will also be in attendance mid-week with a large supply of scripts and theatre books, and it is hoped Theatrebooks will be here at the end of the week. The adjudicators will also give a free workshop. Watch our web site for further details www.theatreontariofestival2010.webs.com

Mark your calendars to attend this exciting week of theatre featuring artists from Ontario, learn more about the art and technique of theatre, and pick up a supply of Canadian scripts at a discount.
